Did you know that...?

Sharks have been on Earth for over 400 million years. This means they predate the dinosaurs and are among the oldest animals on our planet.
Most shark species are harmless to humans. There are over 500 species of sharks in the world, and most of them feed on fish, crustaceans, and other marine animals.

IQcoloring.com

